

WIRELESS ACCESS

The Nanuet Public Library is pleased to provide free wireless Internet access for the use of our patrons. Agreement to abide by the following rules is a precondition for having access to the wireless network.

Patrons must accept the Library's basic policy and rules for access to the Internet. Paper copies of this policy are available at the Adult and Children's Reference Desks.

The patron is responsible for setting up his or her laptop and software to permit wireless access through the Library's network.

The Library does not assume responsibility for the safety and integrity of personal equipment, laptop configurations or data files.

The Library cannot vouch for the security of wireless communications. It is strongly advised that wireless communication not be used for the transmission of sensitive or personal information.

Patrons may not use the Library's printers with their own laptop equipment.

Library staff members are not permitted to configure a person's personal laptop or to provide assistance with the installation of hardware or software.

Patrons are responsible for providing virus protection for personal equipment

The Library cannot vouch for the reliability of any website nor the success of any given online transaction.

The Library's wireless network may require periodic maintenance, and the Library cannot be held responsible for unforeseen down time.

Patrons using personal laptops in a manner disturbing to others in the Library will be asked to turn off the equipment. Repeated violation of this rule will result in suspension of usage privileges.
